

REPORT ON THE 3-DAY NATIONAL WORKSHOP ON RESEARCH METHODOLOGY

Organized by the Department of Sociology, Holy Cross College, Agartala

Date: November 16-18, 2023

Venue: Room G-08

Introduction:

The 3-Day National Workshop on Research Methodology, hosted by the Department of Sociology at Holy Cross College, Agartala, was conducted from November 16th to 18th, 2023. This workshop aimed to provide participants with a strong foundation in research methodology, encompassing various research methods, data collection techniques, and ethical considerations in research. The event brought together over 100 participants, including both students and faculty members, in a quest to empower them with practical research knowledge.

Day 1: November 16, 2023

Inaugural Session: The inaugural session of the workshop was convened on November 16, 2023. The workshop commenced with a soulful prayer song, setting a contemplative tone. Reverend Dr. Fr. Benny K. John, CSC, Principal of Holy Cross College, extended a warm welcome to the participants. This marked the beginning of an intellectually stimulating journey. Then, Mr. Joel Lalengliana Darlong, Assistant Professor in the Department of Sociology introduced participants to the concept note, providing an overview of the workshop's objectives and themes, thus charting the course for the upcoming days.

Technical Session I: Basic Concepts of Research Methodology: The first session lecture was delivered led by Dr. Sudeshna Chanda, Associate Professor at Kabi Nazrul Mahavidyalaya. She delved into the foundational principles of research methodology. Dr. Chanda elucidated the meaning of research, the diverse types of research, and the essential steps involved in conducting rigorous research.

Technical Session II: Social Science Research: Prof. Irene Lalruatkimi, an eminent scholar from the Department of Mass Communication at Mizoram University, assumed the role of the guide in the second technical session. Prof. Lalruatkimi explored the domain of social science research, discussing conceptual frameworks, diverse types of social research, and the objectives underpinning social sciences. She also addressed the challenges related to objectivity in studying complex social phenomena.

Technical Session III: Ethical Considerations in Social Research: Dr. Surojit Sen Gupta, a distinguished speaker, led the third technical session, focusing on the ethical dimensions of social research. Dr. Sen Gupta emphasized the critical role of ethics in social science research, emphasizing the distinctions between the ethical considerations of physical sciences and social sciences. He articulated acceptable and unacceptable researcher behavior and shared essential insights into maintaining ethical standards in research.

The day end with a question and answer and feedback session.

Day 2: November 17, 2023

The second day of the workshop transitioned into practical sessions, providing participants with hands-on experience in research-related activities.

Practice Session I: Information Search Strategies and Retrieval Tools in Libraries: Ms. Kainguilui Pamei, Librarian at Holy Cross College, assumed the role of the facilitator in the first practical session. She delved into information search strategies and introduced participants to the plethora of retrieval tools available in libraries. This session empowered participants with effective methods to gather information efficiently.

Practice Session II: Utilizing Google Drive for Information Storage: In the second practical session, Ms. Mandrita Saha, Assistant Professor in the Department of Commerce at Holy Cross College, provided hands-on guidance on using Google Drive as a storage solution for information and documents. Participants gained insights into the benefits of utilizing Google Drive for academic and research purposes

Technical Session IV: Information Management in the Digital Era: Dr. Mithu Anjali Gayan, Assistant Professor in the Department of Library and Information Science at Tripura University, conducted the fourth technical session. Dr. Gayan delved into the realm of information management in the digital era. She discussed information management in the digital era, including sorting data using Google Scholar and advanced searches. She emphasized the importance of identifying reliable and authentic sources for research and academic purposes.

Technical Session V: Data Collection and Analysis: Dr. Ruchi Sachan, Assistant Professor in the Department of Geography at Miranda House, Delhi University, led the fifth technical session. Dr. Sachan provided valuable insights into data collection and analysis techniques, with a particular emphasis on the collection of primary data for research.

Technical Session VI: Data Evaluation, Management, Coding, and Tabulation: The final technical session was conducted by Dr. Debabrata Roy, Assistant Professor at ICFAI University, Agartala. Dr. Roy presented a comprehensive overview of data evaluation, data management, coding, and tabulation techniques, equipping participants with essential tools for effective data handling.

Day 3: November 18, 2023

The concluding day of the workshop was steered by Ms. Sentienla, the Convenor of the 3-Day National Workshop. She expressed gratitude to all participants, speakers, and organizers for their unwavering commitment to making the event a success. Certificates were distributed to acknowledge the active participation of attendees and their dedication to advancing research capabilities.

Conclusion:

The 3-Day National Workshop on Research Methodology was a resounding success, effectively achieving its primary objectives of imparting knowledge, fostering practical skills, and inculcating ethical considerations among participants. The event served as a valuable platform for learning, collaboration, and knowledge sharing among students and faculty members representing various academic institutions. It is anticipated that the knowledge acquired during this workshop will significantly contribute to enhancing research capabilities and promoting ethical research practices among all participants, thereby facilitating more robust and meaningful contributions to the field of research.

Subject: Request for Permission to Conduct a 3-Day National Workshop on Research Methodology

Respected Father,

I am writing to seek your kind permission to organize a 3-day National Workshop on Research Methodology, scheduled to take place from November 16-18, 2023. This workshop aims to provide an invaluable opportunity for both students and faculty members to enhance their research skills and contribute to the academic and professional growth of our institution.

The primary objective of this workshop is to equip the participants with essential research skills and knowledge required to conduct high quality research. We have planned various sessions and hands-on activities, aiming to engage students actively and provide them with practical insights into the subject matter and enhance the participants' research capabilities. This workshop also aims to encourage research collaboration and interdisciplinary learning among participants as well as enhance the research culture and output at our esteemed college.

To ensure the success of this workshop and offer our participants the best possible learning experience, we are keen to extend invitations to the following distinguished professionals:

1. Dr. Irene Lalruatkimi, Professor, Department of Mass Communication, Mizoram University, Mizoram
2. Dr. Ruchi Sachan, Assistant Professor, Department of Geography, Miranda House, University of Delhi
3. Dr. Mithu Anjali Gayan, Assistant Professor, Department of Library & Information Science, Tripura University
4. Dr. Sudeshna Chanda, Associate Professor, Department of Sociology, Kabi Nazrul Mahavidyalaya (Formerly Government Degree College, Sonamura), Tripura University
5. Dr. Surojit Sengupta, Associate Professor, Department of Sociology, MBB College, MBB University, Tripura.
6. Dr. Debabrata Roy, Assistant Professor & Coordinator at ICFAI Law School, ICFAI University, Tripura

These esteemed individuals have demonstrated expertise in their respective fields and have a wealth of knowledge to share. Their presence as guest speakers and facilitators will undoubtedly enrich the workshop's content and provide valuable guidance to our participants.

Thank you for considering our request. We look forward to your positive response.

Sincerely,

Ms. Sentienla

3-Day National Workshop on Research Methodology

Date: November 16 – 18, 2023

Venue: G-08, Holy Cross College

Organized by the Department of Sociology,
Holy Cross College, Agartala

ABOUT THE WORKSHOP:

Research is a fundamental aspect of knowledge generation and progress in any field. It is a systematic and organized process that necessitates the application of appropriate methodologies and techniques. Recognizing the need for training in research and the development of research competencies, the Department of Sociology, Holy Cross College Agartala is organizing a three-day National Workshop on Research Methodology. The focus of the workshop is to expose students or young researchers to enrich their knowledge about research methods that are employed with both qualitative and quantitative data.

OBJECTIVES:

The primary objectives of this three-day workshop on research methodology are:

- ☐ Build a Strong Foundation: To provide participants with a comprehensive understanding of research methodology.
- ☐ Methodological Knowledge: To equip participants with the knowledge of various research methods and data collection techniques.
- ☐ Practical Skills: To enable participants to apply the acquired knowledge through hands-on exercises and practical sessions.
- ☐ Interdisciplinary Insights: To encourage interdisciplinary discussions and insights into research methodologies across various fields.

- Ethical Considerations: To highlight the significance of research ethics and responsible conduct in research.
- Research Tools and Resources: To introduce participants to the latest research tools and resources available for effective research.

TARGET AUDIENCE:

This workshop is designed for :-

- Postgraduate Students: Master's and Ph.D. students looking to enhance their research skills.
- Academics and Researchers: Faculty members, researchers, and professionals aiming to refine their research methodologies.
- Industry Professionals: Individuals from the corporate sector interested in applying research methods to solve real-world problems.

WORKSHOP CONTENT:

The workshop will cover a broad spectrum of topics, including:

□ Introduction to Research Methodology: Understanding the research process and its components, types of research
□ Review of literature: collection of secondary data
□ Research Design: Formulating research questions, and hypotheses, and selecting appropriate research designs.
□ Data Collection Techniques: Exploring qualitative and quantitative data collection methods.
□ Data Analysis: Techniques for analysing research data using software tools.
□ Ethical Considerations: Discussing research ethics and responsible conduct in research.
□ Report Writing:
□ Interdisciplinary Insights: Sharing insights and methodologies from diverse research fields.
□ Research Tools and Resources: Introducing participants to modern research tools and libraries.
